Chapter X

Organisation of High International School of Gdansk

§ 36

Basic organisational unit of High International School of Gdansk is a class. A homeroom teacher takes care of the class.

§ 37

Didactic classes start in September and end in June. In High International School of Gdansk didactic classes are held from Monday to Friday. A lesson lasts 45 minutes. Depending on the character of the given subject, it is possible to organise the same didactic classes in the form of two blocked lesson hours, for example, 2 x 45 minutes, with a break regulated by a teacher.

§ 38

Some of the classes are held in High International School of Gdansk in the ways that are not traditional. Namely, subjects such as foreign languages and physical education can join students from different classes, depending on their level and interests. The same concerns other subjects, if necessary, which may be the result of specific interests and skills of particular students. The size of the class in which the classes are held should depend on technical as well as organisational conditions and the character of particular classes.

§ 39

High International School of Gdansk organises extra-curricular activities which develop students' interests and which are held after obligatory classes.

§ 40

Detailed organisation of teaching, education and care in the given school year is specified in the organisational plan of ISG, and is accepted by the board of directors of the Foundation. The plan takes into consideration the assumptions concerning organisation of work, which is included in school set of programmes to be accomplished in ISG. On the basis of this organisational plan, a week's schedule, which defines organisation of duties and additional educational activities, is set.

§ 41

Indispensable to the work of High International School of Gdansk are school trips and after school outings which are organised by teachers in order to carry out various educational aims. All school trips and after school outings must be approved by the principal.

§ 42

In order to carry out educational aims, High International School of Gdansk owns a computer room as well as other class or subject laboratories, which are properly equipped. Students can use the above-mentioned rooms, laboratories and sports facilities only under teacher supervision.

§ 43

High International School of Gdansk contains a library and a reading room where books as well as multimedia sources are gathered. Special attention here is paid to encyclopaedic publications, school set texts, films and educational recordings in the English language. Additionally, the library keeps the subscription of newspapers and magazines for students and teachers.

Chapter XI

Reporting and assessment principles in High International School of Gdansk

§ 44

Teachers are obliged to maintain regular contact with students' parents (legal guardians) and to remain available for parents and students for one fixed hour weekly, apart from the time of casual didactic classes. The register of such duty hours with the place, day of the week and a set hour is fixed and put to public notice in September, for the whole school year.

§ 45

Parents (legal guardians) are informed about their children's education in the following forms:

- a) at the beginning of school year (in September) teachers provide parents with brief information concerning the educational offer of High International School of Gdansk as well as the school demands established for the given year;
- b) during the school year parents participate in the meetings organised by a form teacher in accordance with work schedule of High International School of Gdansk;
- c) parents participate in individual meetings which are organised at a set date. A student, a parent and a homeroom teacher take part in such meetings;
- d) at the end of school year parents are informed via certificates compiled according to the binding law.

§ 46

Each teacher establishes and specifies his or her own assessment system which must fulfil the following conditions:

- a) clearly states the expectations;
- b) is made known to both: parents and students;
- c) utilizes frequent assessment in a variety of forms;
- d) every mark is disclosed and justified by a teacher;
- e) assessment is systematic and just;
- f) assessment takes the form of that approved by the Polish Ministry of Education (MEN) in the following way:

Percent of earned points	Marks according to the MEN scale
Less than 50%	1
50 – 59%	2
60 – 74%	3
75 – 90%	4
90 – 99%	5
100% and higher	6

A final mark is calculated from points earned collectively during the entire school year.

§ 47

A final behavioural mark is established based on the MEN scale. This mark is assigned by the homeroom teacher after consultation with students and teachers.

§ 48

In case of unsatisfactory marks at the end of school year, a homeroom teacher informs student's parents (legal guardians) at least three weeks before the classification. In such reporting a written form is required. The unsatisfactory mark given by a teacher can be altered only by a re-take which takes place, according to the binding regulations, in the last week of summer break.

§ 49

Teachers should inform the students and their parents (legal guardians) about positive marks which are to be given at least one week before the classification. Parents are informed about their children's marks via students or during the meetings.

§ 50

A classification exam is given and prepared by a teacher of the particular subject, in a form specified by him/her, at the request of an interested student or his/her parents, at the time previously fixed with the principal of a school in case of:

lack of grounds to establish a mark because of the absence of a student which comes to over 50% of classes from the given subject (if the absence is not justified, the agreement of the board of teachers is required);

- a) a student with individual system of education – a student is allowed to study in such a system with the principal's consent. S/he collects all the final marks on the given report, on which it is fundamental to have earned all the student's semester credits. (individual system of education is, in most cases, granted in case of longer, planned absences of a student, connected, for instance, with foreign exchange, long term medical treatment, sports career of a student etc.);
- b) the need to document the acquisition of the given subject beyond school.

Chapter XII

Final decisions

§ 51

The statute is equally valid for all the members of school community – teachers, students, parents, a headmaster, service and administration workers.

§ 52

High International School of Gdansk gathers and stores the documentation in conformity with separate regulations.

§ 53

The text of the above presented statute can be amended by the Foundation's Council.

§ 54

From 01 July 2013, the former ISG statute is no longer valid. The above statute becomes valid from this day.
